DIGITAL VIDEO OVERVIEW MATCHING   Digital Media 1

1. _____ Aspect Ratio

2. _____ Analog

3. _____ AVI

4. _____ Broadcasing System

5. _____ Digital Video

6. _____ FLV

7. _____ Frame Rate

8. _____ Interlaced

9. _____ MOV

10. _____ MPEG2

11. _____ MPEG4

12. _____ NTSC

13. _____ PAL

14. _____ Progressive

15. _____ Scanning Method

16. _____ SECAM

17. _____ Streaming Video

18. _____ WMV

A Broadcasting system used in North America and many other parts of the Western Hemisphere.

B Displays half of the video picture at a time and alternates too quickly for the human eye to notice.

C File format used for Blue Ray Discs and the standard file format for streaming videos over the internet.

D File type that can be an animation or a video, used for television broadcast, and is used by QuickTime.

E Format used for DVDs.

F France, Northern Africa, and Russia uses this broadcasting system.

G Method by which a video appears on a screen.

H Moving images that have been captured created or edited electronically.

I Ratio of a video's height and width dimensions.

J Speed at which video frames appear on a screen, measured by FPS.

K Standard video file format for Microsoft PCs.

L The majority of Europe, China, and other parts of the Eastern Hemisphere uses this broadcasting system.

M The type of system that the televsion is sent out using.

N This method displays the entire video picture at all times, greatly reducing any flickering of the picture and creating a better quality image.

O Transmitting video files over the internet that can begin playing while the remaining data is still downloading.

P Video file format for Windows Media Player for video playback and Microsoft uses this for streaming on the internet.

Q Video file format that used Adobe Flash for playback, this is the standard format for embedded video on the Internet.

R Video signal transmits information continuously in the form of a wave.